

MEDIA RELEASE 14 JUNE 2024

ABC Organic Gardener magazine celebrates a remarkable 25 years in print with issue #150.

On sale 20th June

ABC Organic Gardener magazine has been delivering expert advice to gardeners of all skill levels since the late Peter Cundall OAM compiled the first issue in 1999. His renowned passion for organic gardening and a sustainable future was infectious and the companion to ABC Gardening Australia magazine soon became a favourite of gardeners Australia-wide.

In issue #150, with permission from the Cundall family, we feature one of Peter's classic stories. Packed with his no-frills expert advice, it's wonderful to 'hear' his voice again in print.

Also in the special anniversary edition is a look at some of editor Steve Payne's favourite stories, with a 2024 update. Steve has been at the helm of the magazine from the early days and says "Each issue, each year that has gone by, has been different, filled with new ideas, new directions and contributors, and an ever-changing world."

There's an inspirational feature from some of our top writers on their gardening journeys and favourite winter crops - Horticultural editor, Phil Dudman, warm-temperate writer, Jian Liu, poultry expert, Jessamy Miller, subtropics writer, Leonie Shanahan and permaculture writer, Karen Sutherland all share their stories.

Other issue highlights include the stunning all-seasons garden, discovering (and making!) kimchi, gorgeous old-world roses, the history and future of organic wines and beautiful winter recipes from Anabel Langbein.

Attached is a full list of features, available guests and topics for stories and interviews that will resonate with audiences everywhere.
