

Horticultural Media Association
BIOSECURITY UPDATE
on ZOOM

An Update on Biosecurity

On Tuesday next week Martin Horwood , Senior Biosecurity Officer, Greater Sydney Local Land Services, will give us an overview of the current NSW biosecurity act and also cover some of the recent pests and potential invaders that threaten Australian homes, gardens and the horticulture industry.

Problems covered include varroa mite, drywood termites, brown marmorated stink bug, tomato/potato psyllid, citrus canker etc.

The presentation will be held via Zoom and will take approximately 30 minutes plus time for questions.

Register in advance for this meeting:

https://zoom.us/meeting/register/tJwvcOitqzgrHtUCKXJCXgYLJnLEobhJ_8NQ

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.