Sustainable Norfolk

The tours and activities included in this week provide an excellent insight into the local industries, history and cultural heritage that support the Island's way of life.

While an isolated location requires many goods to be imported, there are numerous businesses and practices that produce and supply the local market and support a unique way of Island life.

Adam Woodhams – your tour escort

Adam is a career horticulturist and sustainability specialist running his own multimedia communications business; and a winner of a multitude of awards for his contributions to the media, sustainability and garden design. For much of his life Adam has been deeply passionate about gardening, the environment and Australian history.

For 20-years he has shared his passion for these areas through his media work – writing and photographing for Australia's leading home and garden lifestyle magazines, as a radio broadcaster, podcast host, TV-presenter and public speaker.

Nearly 10-years ago Adam fell under Norfolk Island's spell and has been a frequent island visitor ever since hosting tour groups, with his family for holidays and on media assignments.

He has written a multitude of articles on the horticultural heritage, sustainability and history of the isle and his recent podcast episodes have had nearly 10,000 downloads from around the globe.

Adam's depth of knowledge, understanding and passion for the island's history, heritage, people and environment ensure that anyone visiting with him will have a unique, memorable and richly rewarding experience.

Norfolk Island

Situated a short two hour flight from Sydney or Brisbane and midway between Australia and New Zealand, Norfolk Island is packed full of things to see and do. The World Heritage listed Kingston Area will take you into the history of the First Fleet, the turbulent convict years and today's vibrant 'Norf'k' culture (born out of the infamous 'Mutiny on the Bounty') can be explored via tours, displays and even a chat with a friendly local.

Encounter our pristine environment via swimming, reef snorkelling and rainforest walks. Our cafés and restaurants offer delicious, fresh and organic meals and local art, crafts, toys, shoes and tax-free items are amongst shopping highlights.
